MOST IMPORTANT DISCOVERY OF THE DAY.

To Sheep farmers and the Public in general.

F. C. Calvert's Phenyline & Terebanes Sheep Salve

The great reputation these specifics have enjoyed in England on account of their extraordinary success in all cases where they have been applied, has induced the proprietor to introduce them in this market on account of the immense sheep farming interest of the country. To enable sheep farmers to obviate in future the enormous losses they sustain yearly, not only in the deterioration of the Sheep, but also, as frequently happens, the loss of the animal itself. It is a powerful antiseptic and he only asks a fair trial, feeling confident of the result. The following is a list of some of the uses to which these antiseptics may be applied—

In Sheep—To cure maggots, foot-rot, scab, lice, tick.

In Horses—Canker in the foot, grease, quitter, all exogenous wounds or ulcers, cracked heels, mange &c

Cows; distemper, and all diseases of the hoofs.

For wounds or bruises resulting from accident and for all general Veterinary purposes these remedies are sure. Phenyline is found to be remarkably successful in the Hospitals in England for curing Cancer. Terebine is also used for preserving hides, skins and bones from all vermin and insects, the parcels at [illegible] cured with it in this city and Australia, have merited the approval of purchasers in England who report them to be perfectly sound and sweet. The leather made from the hides is also declared to be superior in every respect.

TEA-TABLE TALK.

Town is gay at present, and functions, convivial, theatrical, musical, industrial, and ecclesiastical divide our attention in a manner highly calculated to prevent spleen, and most suitable to gratify the terrestrial or celestial propensities of our mixed human nature. There is a time for all things, and a little relaxation does not prejudice our love of labor, nor a passing glance at church ceremonies constitute a character for bigotry. Ladies are supposed to be super-eminent both in amusement and devotion: therefore we will review both.

The event of the week was Mr. Schulz's tertulia, given in celebration of a christening, on Friday evening. The invitations were litographed billets, to the number of 200, and about half this number of guests attended. Since Miss Lumb's marriage-ball, nothing so brilliant has been seen. The court-yard was covered in for a saloon, and gracefully hung with banners of all nations. The music of three instruments lent its aid to the occasion, and a motley group of foreigners and natives, fair ladies and brave men, tripped it on the light fantastic toe. The hours sped rapidly and pleasure reigned with undisputed sway. The refreshments were as usual first rate, but even mirth must have an end—By the way the host was wrong to style it "de confianza" for such a full dress blow-out seldom occurs. One poor fellow uninvited seem to have taken 'huff,' publishing an advertisement in the 'Nacion Argentina,' for a second-hand dress coat, gloves and cravat for the party.

President Mitre gave a tea party same evening, in opposition, but neither the splendour of office, nor reputation for hospitality, availed him, against the victorious German, and we are told the General fell asleep on his sofa in disgust, for want of visitors.

A French merchant, living in calle Cuyo, gave a grand ball last night, to which we believe the members of Government were invited. Next Saturday a Spanish trader, of respectability, of the South-end, will celebrate his wife's birthday with a similar merry-making.

The Glee Club, once so private, is now split up into a dozen fractions, each of which honises at one or more of the six musical soirees given by as many English families on different nights of the week. This is an improvement, as formerly only the rude sex gave a cantata, while duets, amatory, sentimental, operatic, or otherwise, are now sung by couples, whose harmony of feeling may lead to an explicatione in which the story of Romeo and Juliet may be played 'da capo' without its tragic part.

The ballad of 'Villikens and his Dinah' is under repetition every day in our issue, between two 'promessi sposi' on opposite sides of the Plate. Up to the present we are ignorant of the real parties, and are glad of it, lest our inquisitive readers should force us to disclose it.

The theatres continue to offer a varied bill of fare. Anne Mollo draws pretty good houses at Colon, and if those operas not played for some time in our city were given, we think the prima-donna and Lelmi would gain still more in popularity and pocket. The Dramatic Company got up a catchpenny representation called Redoma Encantada, which was duly—placarded—and turned out a Redoma Embromada. No money returned at the doors. Petitions to repress any signs of public marks of discontent. Clap-ping expected in the gallery. The French concert at the Victoria theatre by MM. Frenchel and Nessler showed how first-rate players may fail to cause a furore, with inferior instruments. M. Frenchel is now giving private lessons in music. M. Nessler is a talented composer, and one of the best pianists we ever heard.

Marriages are even of more interest to ladies, young or old, than amusements. We have to report three on the tapis. A native estanciero, very well liked by his Irish tenantry, and who was educated in Europe, is about to lead to the hymeneal altar the charming daughter of a Doctor of Laws. A well-known capitalist is said to be engaged to a wealthy widow. The daughter of a German consul is also reported to have accepted the hand of a native houseowner of this city.

In politics there is little to attract the notice of our fair friends. They will regret to learn that the new Customs' Law, while admitting jewellery half-price has not made an equally favorable exception for silks. We heard a patriotic young lady exclaim the other day "Let them tax silks 100 per cent and admit books and printing materials." The sentiment is highly honorable and a noble contrast with the legislative tomfoolery of Congress.

The Flores affair is still in 'statu quo;' after hundreds of victories, neither Lamas has annihilated the filibusters, nor Don Venancio taken Salto or Montevideo. Several Porteños are terribly vexed about the capture of Puebla, having burned their French Grammars, and even extended their revenge to everything which savours of Gallicism: some, the wives of Frenchmen, deny the nationality to which, by European laws, they belong. "Tantaene animis coelestibus irae," (such rage in heavenly breasts).

Railways always suggest the idea of the 'fare', and ladies like long 'trains,' often thinking a junction the best 'terminus' to single line. They may sometimes 'rail' at Matrimony, and, being good 'fencers,' make cutting remarks about the 'mails' but if you do not come to a collision, they will take their ticket for whatever 'station' fate has assigned you. They are therefore, great patrons of the Northern Railroad, but not so much of the Western, having some repugnance to Government. They will be glad to hear that the Southern line is not quite knocked on the head, showing yet some signs of vitality. This reminds us that a new line of steamers from Liverpool to the Brazils will, with the others, keep us in almost weekly-communication with Europe. The fare being reduced to half price will afford great facility for taking a trip homewards. We remark among the last departures the family of Mr. Augustine Riestra, whose visit to England is, we presume, for pleasure. In next month's 'London News' we expect to see an engraving of the Cordoba Railway inauguration, which we transmitted last May.

In literature we have no novelty. The charivari Mosquito is very stupid, and there is rumour of an English illustrated rival. The Revista de Buenos Ayres, an appropriate ornament for the parlour-table, will issue its third number to day. We have before mentioned the River Plate Journal—a weekly review—to appear in London on July 1st, edited by a gentleman who is favourably known here. It is said several works are at present in press here, but the new duties will press heavily on publishers.

Religious ceremonials are in season. We report the reception of three nuns at the Irish convent on Friday; it was also the feast of St Ignatius of Loyola, founder of the Jesuits, and the college church was crowded with devout parishioners. Sir W. Parish says that the only good things in this country are ascribable to Jesuits: and yet they are banished! Our readers are aware that the illustrious founder had been a soldier, and having received some wounds in storming Pampeluna, he read, while confined to bed, the life of St Theresa his countrywoman, which so affected him that he became a monk. To day there is a remarkable function at San Francisco and San Juan, called the Portiuncula or feast of angels, deriving its origin, if we recollect aright, from an Italian devotion at the door of some celebrated shrine in Tuscany, and dating from the middle ages. The penitents go in and out 7 times, repeating the Our Father and other prayers.

Santa Rosa, patroness of South America, comes at the close of this month, and often visits us with a vengeance. Ship-masters should lay in a supply of good anchors, lest the weather clerk anticipate the day. But we must not run ahead of the date, or the devil will destroy what we have written. The season for cotton planting approaches, yet not a single lady has taken advantage of our offer to supply the instructions and cotton seed gratis. Probably they prefer silk-worms, the former here being too cheap and vulgar. In such case we will endeavour to procure a number of these tiny workmen from Italy, and meantime make our accustomed bow—till next week.

NEW CUSTOMS' LAW.

CHAPTER I.

MARITIME IMPORTS.

Art. 1. Gold and silver in coin and unwrought, plants of every nature, fresh fruits, firewood and charcoal, cattle for breeding, and Indian corn imported by land, shall be admitted free of duty.

Art. 2. The Executive power is enabled to admit the free introduction of seeds destined for agriculture, and also of those articles which in its judgment it considers exclusively destined to religion, and which are asked for by the curates of churches or superior of confraternities as property of said churches; instruments or utensils of science, machines requisite to new fabrics or industry; emigrants' furniture or tools, and things destined exclusively for their establishments.

Art. 3. Unset precious stones, gold and silver, wrought or manufactured, with or without precious stones; every instrument or utensil with handle or adornment of same metal, when these augment a third part of its value, shall pay 8 per cent of its value.

Art. 4. All articles of importation not excepted in the preceding articles, shall pay 15 per cent.

Art. 5. The import of porterage of articles for direct despatch shall be five centesimos for each 8 arr. of weight or its equivalent in measurement, according to the classification of the bulk, which shall be made by the executive.

Art. 6 Leakage of wines, spirits, liquors, beer in barrels and vinegar, will be calculated, according to the port, from whence the vessel shall have loaded, ten per cent being calculated, for the ports situated north of the line, six from the ports on this side, and three within the capes. For the above in bottles, five per cent, without admittting refilling or any other description of leakage, &c.

CHAPTER II.

EXPORTS BY LAND OR WATER.

7. The following articles shall pay five per cent. of their value, on exportation: horse and cow hides of every description, asses' skins, sheepskins, all kinds of skins, hide-cuttings, dried and salted beef, salt tongues, ostrich feathers, bones, bone ash, horns and horn tips, hair and wool washed or dirty, animal oil grease and tallow raw or rendered, live cows, horses, and sheep.

8. All other articles of produce or manufacture not mentioned in the above article, as well as gold and silver coined or in bullion, are free of duties, on exportation.

CHAPTER III.

DEPOSIT AND TRANSIT.

9. The Custom-houses properly authorised shall admit in deposit any article subject to import dues.

10. The deposit shall be made at the discretion of Government, either in State warehouses, or in private stores, or in floating receptacles in the several ports, under the immediate dependence of the Customs' department, the Fiscal not being responsible for loss or damage to goods in private deposit, in which latter case the importer shall be liable for all costs of storage and porterage.

11. The Executive shall always have the right of determining as to private deposits, as also the management of Custom-house porters, either wholly or in part, for account of the parties interested, in which case they shall be free of the usual porterage.

12. The term fixed for admission of goods in deposit is two years, from the entry of the ship, after which time the goods must be either despatched or transhipped; the deposit, however, may be renewed after due examination of the goods, and payment of the storage and porterage already due.

13. The fees for storage and porterage shall be payable on the despatch of the goods from deposit, and for this purpose a scale of charges shall be regulated and revised every year by the executive, on the calculation of the ... of deposit, excepting in general sales of manufactured goods, which shall pay one eighth per cent per month of their valuation in deposit.

14. A month begun, of storage, shall be considered a month ended in the recovery of charges.

15. The Fiscal is responsible for goods lodged in his own stores, except in case of inculpable accident, or damage, arising from defects inherent in the goods, or their covering.

16. The customs will admit free transit for goods in deposit, from one port to any other properly constituted, in the republic.

17. The Customs will likewise afford free transhipment of goods, within the term of 40 days from the entry of the importing vessel.

CHAPTER IV.

CALCULATION OF DUTIES.

18. The duties shall be arranged by vistas (inspectors), accompanied by aforadores (valuators), the calculation for imported articles being on their value in deposit, and for exports on their market value at the time of embarkation, excepting such as by their nature may be previously classified and valued, the duties whereof shall be assessed by a tariff of valuation framed on the same basis of prices.

19. The Executive shall appoint every six months, the rates of valuation for goods or produce to pay duties as above mentioned.

20. Whenever a manufacture shall be composed of two or more fabrics paying different duties, that paying the higher duty shall be levied.

21. All goods turning out damaged at time of despatch shall be valued in the price they might bring at public auction, less the corresponding duty, an account whereof shall be presented within the term of 30 days after being despatched.

22. In case of differences between the vista, vendor, and merchant, as to the value of any article of manufacture or produce not specified in the tariff of valuation, the despatch shall be postponed until the difficulty be arranged, and if not settled within 8 days the Custom House shall have the right, and may even be obliged to take the article for the valuation set on it, paying the amount in Collector's notes.

23. Merchants shall accept bills payable at three and six months if the duty exceeds $50: anything under this sum shall be paid in cash.

24. Export duties shall be paid in cash, and at the first point of embarkation, when the goods are despatched direct for foreign ports, and no articles shall be allowed to pass by water from one to another port of the Republic unless cleared and guaranteed in the form to be prescribed by the Executive.

CHAPTER V

ADDITIONAL DUTIES.

25. All effects and goods subject to import duties shall pay an additional duty of 2 1/2 per cent ad valorem.

26. All articles of produce subject to export duties shall pay an additional duty of 5 per cent.

27. All additional duties shall be discharged and recovered apart from the ordinary imports.

CHAPTER VI

GENERAL RULES

28. The payment of duties recoverable in any of the Custom-houses of the Republic, shall be effected in any of the moneys determined by the Nat. Law of October 1st 1860, or in paper currency of the province of Buenos Ayres, or in Bolivian silver at its market value in exchange for gold. National copper money shall only be received up to 2 per cent of the sum payable and all documents of credit strictly excluded in payment of customs duties.

29. In the Custom Houses of the province of Corrientes, duties may be also satisfied in paper-currency of that province, at its proportional value in exchange for gold; until the means can be taken to redeem the same.

30. The Goods which may have paid import duties in any Custom house of the republic shall pass freely throughout this territory: but land transit is strictly prohibited for any which may not have satisfied such duties; except only in the case of goods shipped between the port of Concordia and the Brazilian ports of the River Uruguay, for Federacion and Restauracion, and except all effects from Paraguay, passing through the Customs of Restauracion and Federacion, for Brazil or the Oriental republic.

31. This law shall come into force 15 days after the date of publication (July 31st) in the several localities of the Custom-houses of the republic, and shall hold until the 31st December 1864.

32. All other laws or regulations in contradiction to this are hereby repealed and made void.

33. Let it be communicated to the Executive.

Given in the Session hall of the Argentine Congress, at Buenos Ayres, on the 27th day of July, 1863.

Marcos Paz	José E Uriburt,
Carlos M. Saravia	Ramon B. Muniz
Secretary to Senate.	Sec. to Chamber of Deputies.

Wherefore; Let the above be executed, communicated to all parties interested, published and filed on the National Register.

MITRE.
Dalmacio Velez Sarsfield.

THE OLD STORY.

As many of our readers may have an imperfect version of the splendid victory of General Flores over Lamas and from the Tribuna supplement published the other day, be led to believe that the valiant and pro. tem. victorious Flores fought with unequalled bravery, it is right that we should acquaint these misguided individuals that the battle in question was but a repetition of 'the old story': THE CAVALRY FLED.

As history has failed to record all the various battles fought in the River Plate for the last fifty years, it is unhappily, it is necessary to recur to hearsay on the subject: we venture to say that for the last twenty years every battle fought in the River Plate territory has been won more by the cowardice of the enemy than the valour of the victors.

General Lamas was defeated because his cavalry were of the Cepeda and Pavon stamp, but like Mitre in the former engagement, he firmly held his little band of infantry together, and marching at their head, retreated in good order upon Constitucion, where meeting with Dr. Fructuoso Gomez he gave him a lesson of what a handful of courageous infantry soldiers could do.

We would counsel our Café Victoria colleague to be less profuse with his supplements upon such melancholy evidences of cowardice and poltroonism. General Flores, who with all his faults we believe to be a courageous man, has suffered a defeat in front of Salto from exactly the same cause: his forces were numerically superior to those of Lamas and Lagunas combined, and were flushed with victory, yet notwithstanding all this, the moment they experienced the slightest resistance they fled ignominiously—another repetition of 'the old story.' He is a fool indeed, the man who, with these disgraceful instances of cowardice before him, rejoices at the victory of the one or the defeat of the other, rather let him regard these battles as indelible stains upon the honor of his country, about which the less said the better.

Argentine and Oriental generals in all modern engagements have more to fear from their own troops than the enemy's. A certain officer who rode into one of the country towns of this province, after the battle of Cepeda, stated that all he wanted to fight the Buenos Ayrean cavalry was a good rebenque, not a sword or pistols, and yet this identical officer was one of the very first to run away at Pavon.

It is a very melancholy thing indeed to think that the cavalry which won such trophies in Brazil, and broke the German squares with the most heroic intrepidity, should fly like a set of crows, even before a shot was fired.

Colonel Piris's plan of making the cavalry dismount, and driving the horses away, is decidedly the best in such a country, and we hope will henceforth be adopted in every future engagement.

LATEST FROM THE INTERIOR.

ARRIVAL OF THE PAVON.

The Pavon arrived yesterday morning, but brought no news of importance. The diligence had arrived from Cordova, where things remained pretty quiet. Posse's resignation had been admitted, after great discussion in the Chamber about keeping him in power. There is one universal roar for cotton seed in all the Republic, and the jefe politicos of each town and place had promised to demand of the National Government cotton seed for distribution.

From the returns of the diligence companies it appears the business is getting a little brisker. During the month of July the receipts in specie as follows: ounces 57?, condors ?833, silver in bars 66?, paper money $39,?0, Bolivianos $33 00? 2 rls.

It is sad to look at these figures as to extent of the monthly trade with the interior, but we are happy to say that poor as these returns are they show signs of reviving prosperity.

Dr. Benigno Ocampo had been elected Governor of Cordova after a rather spirited contest.

The Litoral from Parana is still attacking the National Government. We wish Dr. Evaristo Carriego would only turn his talents towards the great cotton question, and leave politics for a while alone.

There is nothing new about the Chacho or the Indians: the former it is said is prowling about San Luis, and the latter amusing themselves with the live Juez de Paz, and meditating a friendly interview with Sarmiento, who they say is more wanted to regenerate the Gran Chaco than represent us amongst the 'great free and enlightened.'

Consul Hutchinson is now known in Rosario as Cotton Hutchinson: he is working a stupendous revolution with his seed barrels; his house is besieged with applicants for seed, none of whom ever have been denied. If the people only sow the Consul's seed, and take care of the plants, the cotton of Santa Fe next year will take a flee in the Liverpool market.

RECEPTION AT THE IRISH CONVENT.

On Friday was witnessed the interesting ceremony of giving the black veil to a novice, and the white veil to two postulants, at our Convent of Mercy. The lady professed was Miss Anne Casey, in religion Sister Mary Teresa, daughter of Mr. Laurence Casey, estanciero Navarro; after two years' noviciato, she came to take the religious vows, consecrating her life to the instruction of youth and care of the sick. The postulants who assumed the white veil were Miss Isabel Norris, of Navarro, aged 18, who took the name of Sister Mary Ignatius; and Miss Anne Kenny of Luxan, in religion Sister Mary Xavier.

These three young ladies were educated in the Convent which they have selected for their home and belong to some of the most respectable families of our Irish sheep-farmers. A large number of friends and relations assisted at the holy rite, and it was observed that several native ladies and gentlemen of high standing were present.

The hour appointed was 11 o'clock, and as the little chapel could not accommodate the public, all those invited were admitted, by ticket, through the private entrance. Over 100 persons attended, and the Irish resident clergy counted the V. Rev. A. D. Fahy, O.S.D; Rev Mr Smith, Lobos; Rev Thomas Carolan Villa Luxan; Rev Mr Curran, Capilla Señor, and Rev Mr Leahy, Chapain. High Mass was sung by the V Rev Mr Fahy, celebrant, and Revs M M Curran and Leahy, as deacon and sub-deacon, the choir being composed of the Sisters.

The usual anthems 'O Gloriosa Virginum' and 'Magnificat,' were beautifully chanted, and the impressive ceremonial caused many a tearful eye in the congregation. When Miss Casey repeated the vows of poverty, chastity, and obedience, a stilly silence reigned, and the V Rev Mr Fahy invested her with the black veil. The postulants, at first robed in bridal costume, came to solicit the garment of novices, after receiving which they were led back and their glossy tresses cut off, as emblematic of abandoning earthly vanities, in the very prime of youth and beauty, to devote themselves wholly to prayer and the service of their fellow creatures.

An eloquent and appropriate sermon was preached in Spanish by the Rev Canon Añeiros, D.D, and secretary to the Bishop. Some joyful hymns were then given by the choir, and the newly received sisters took their places, after the usual kiss of peace. All present were greatly edified, and the friends of the new nuns seemed quite happy at the pious consummation.

The ceremonies concluded about one p.m, when the guests were invited to a splendid déjeuner in the refectory, where the Irish priests did the honors, the nuns not appearing as in Ireland. Over twenty carriages were in waiting to convey the several parties to town, and each person offered a tribute of eulogy to the philanthropic heroines of the day, and an aspiration that their labours may be rewarded.

NORTHERN RAILWAY CO.

TO THE PUBLIC.

The Manager of the Northern Railway, with the view of affording to passengers the greatest possible convenience, order and security, as far as depends on his jurisdiction and in fulfilment of his duty to protect the Company's interests, establishes the following regulations to be applicable, from this date, to all parties, without exception, travelling on the line.

1st. The ticket-office will be closed one minute before departure of the train, in order to prevent accidents by persons attempting to enter the train when in motion.

2nd. Every passenger must procure his proper ticket, before entering a carriage. Anyone without a ticket, or travelling 1st class with a 2nd class ticket, must pay full fare from the furthermost station.

3rd. Every passenger must show his ticket to the guard whenever so required, as the latter is responsible to the Company, and must make sure that all travellers have their proper tickets.

4th. Smoking is strictly forbidden in the 1st class carriages, except those specially provided: this habit, besides offending many persons, is contrary to the cleanliness so much to be desired for public convenience. Anyone refusing to put out his cigar when requested by the guard, and insisting on smoking, shall be obliged to leave the train at the station.

5th. Any person drunk, or guilty of disrespect to his fellow passengers, shall be, in like manner, expelled.

6th. Dogs shall never be suffered to enter a 1st class carriage; nor shall it be permitted to place bundles or baskets on the seats.

7th. No passenger shall be allowed to occupy more than one seat. Children over seven years, occupying seats, shall pay full fare.

The Company beg that passengers will report any misconduct on the part of their servants, whose regulations are hung up at the stations; particular attention is called to the following articles:

IV. No drunkenness permitted on duty, under pain of immediate dismissal.

V. Improper language, cursing, or swearing on duty, equally incur dismissal.

VI. No gratuities allowed to any servant, under pain of dismissal.

VII. Any rudeness or incivility to passengers shall be promptly punished.

VIII. Decency of comportment enforced, and all joking on duty strictly prohibited.

Buenos Ayres, July 15th, 1863.

HENRY J. ZIMMERMANN.
Manager of the Northern Railway.

THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT AND COTTON.

We are happy to say that President Mitre has at last, we hear, determined to adopt proper measures for the growing of cotton through the Republic.

A gentleman who yesterday called at our office informed us that all the Gefe Politicos throughout the cotton-growing provinces in the Republic will be furnished with a sack of cotton seed, to be distributed gratis among the poor inhabitants of the place.

This is a step in the right way, and reflects more credit upon President Mitre than fifty Pavons.

We thank the President for this valuable assistance, and congratulate the country upon having conferred power on a man who turns it to such good use.

MONTEVIDEAN BRITISH CLERKS' ASSOCIATION.

The second half yearly general Meeting of this Association, will be held at No. 135 calle Sarandi on the evening of Wednesday next the 8th inst, at half past 6 o'clock. All Members and intending Depositors are invited.

By order.
Montevideo, July 6th 1863.
H J. Scott Go.d,
Secretary.

LOCAL EVENTS.

DR BURMEISTER.—Yesterday's Tribuna contains an anonymous attack on the Director of our Museum, touching some musty old bones and lusus naturae. The writer is evidently a lover of fossils, though we could never see the use of them: being even unfit for bone ash.

FRANCO ENGLISH COLLEGE. We notice a seminary recently opened, with the above name, by Messrs Brunet and Reynolds. The latter gentleman was formerly assistant in Mr Nicholson's well-known academy; the number of English schools now in town is legionary.

CARAVAN. Ladies or gentlemen anxious to visit the ruins of Mendoza or cross the Andes, will be glad to learn that a caravan leaves for Mendoza and Valparaiso on the 7th inst, from the Nogues coffee-house. 40 calle Piedad.

RE OMA ENCANTADA. This Spanish humbug comes off again tonight at Colon. We cannot invite our friends to our box, as the Dramatic Company take it from us for the night.

THE FLORES AFFAIR—It is reported, on good authority, that terms of an arrangement have been entered into between President Berro and Flores, which will be guaranteed by Brazil and the Argentine Republic.

BANK DISCOUNTS—The traders refuse to renew their bills at the Bank of Buenos Ayres, owing, in the opinion of a director, not to the flush of money, but to the high rate of interest.

THE SAINTONGE—This steamer arrived yesterday with Brazilian papers, but no later dates from Europe.

SILENCE—The decent of Flores ... is kept out of all the ... papers: also a certain affair ..., which, at the request of a ... we promised not to publish.

PROVINCIAL DEPUTIES—This ... meets to-morrow evening, to ... the scheme for redeeming paper money and selling public lands.

On 'Change to-day brokers and merchants were pretty busy, as will be seen by a glance at the above figures. A great many sales were effected in provincial produce, and also in classified hides.

The price of the drawing of the National Bonds, on the Bolsa to-day was even greater than the rumours of Congress, on the passing of the bill. Collections were rather good to-day in paper, but ounces were very scarce.
